

HOT DEAL OR GREAT SCAMMER?

It's hard to go past a bargain.

But objects being sold for a fraction of retail value, in exchange for your card details, can give you more than you bargained for, especially when scammers are waiting on the other end.

False ads can appear on your social media and seem for real. But deals that seem too good to be true and sites that ask you to part with personal or financial information are all warning signs of a great scam.

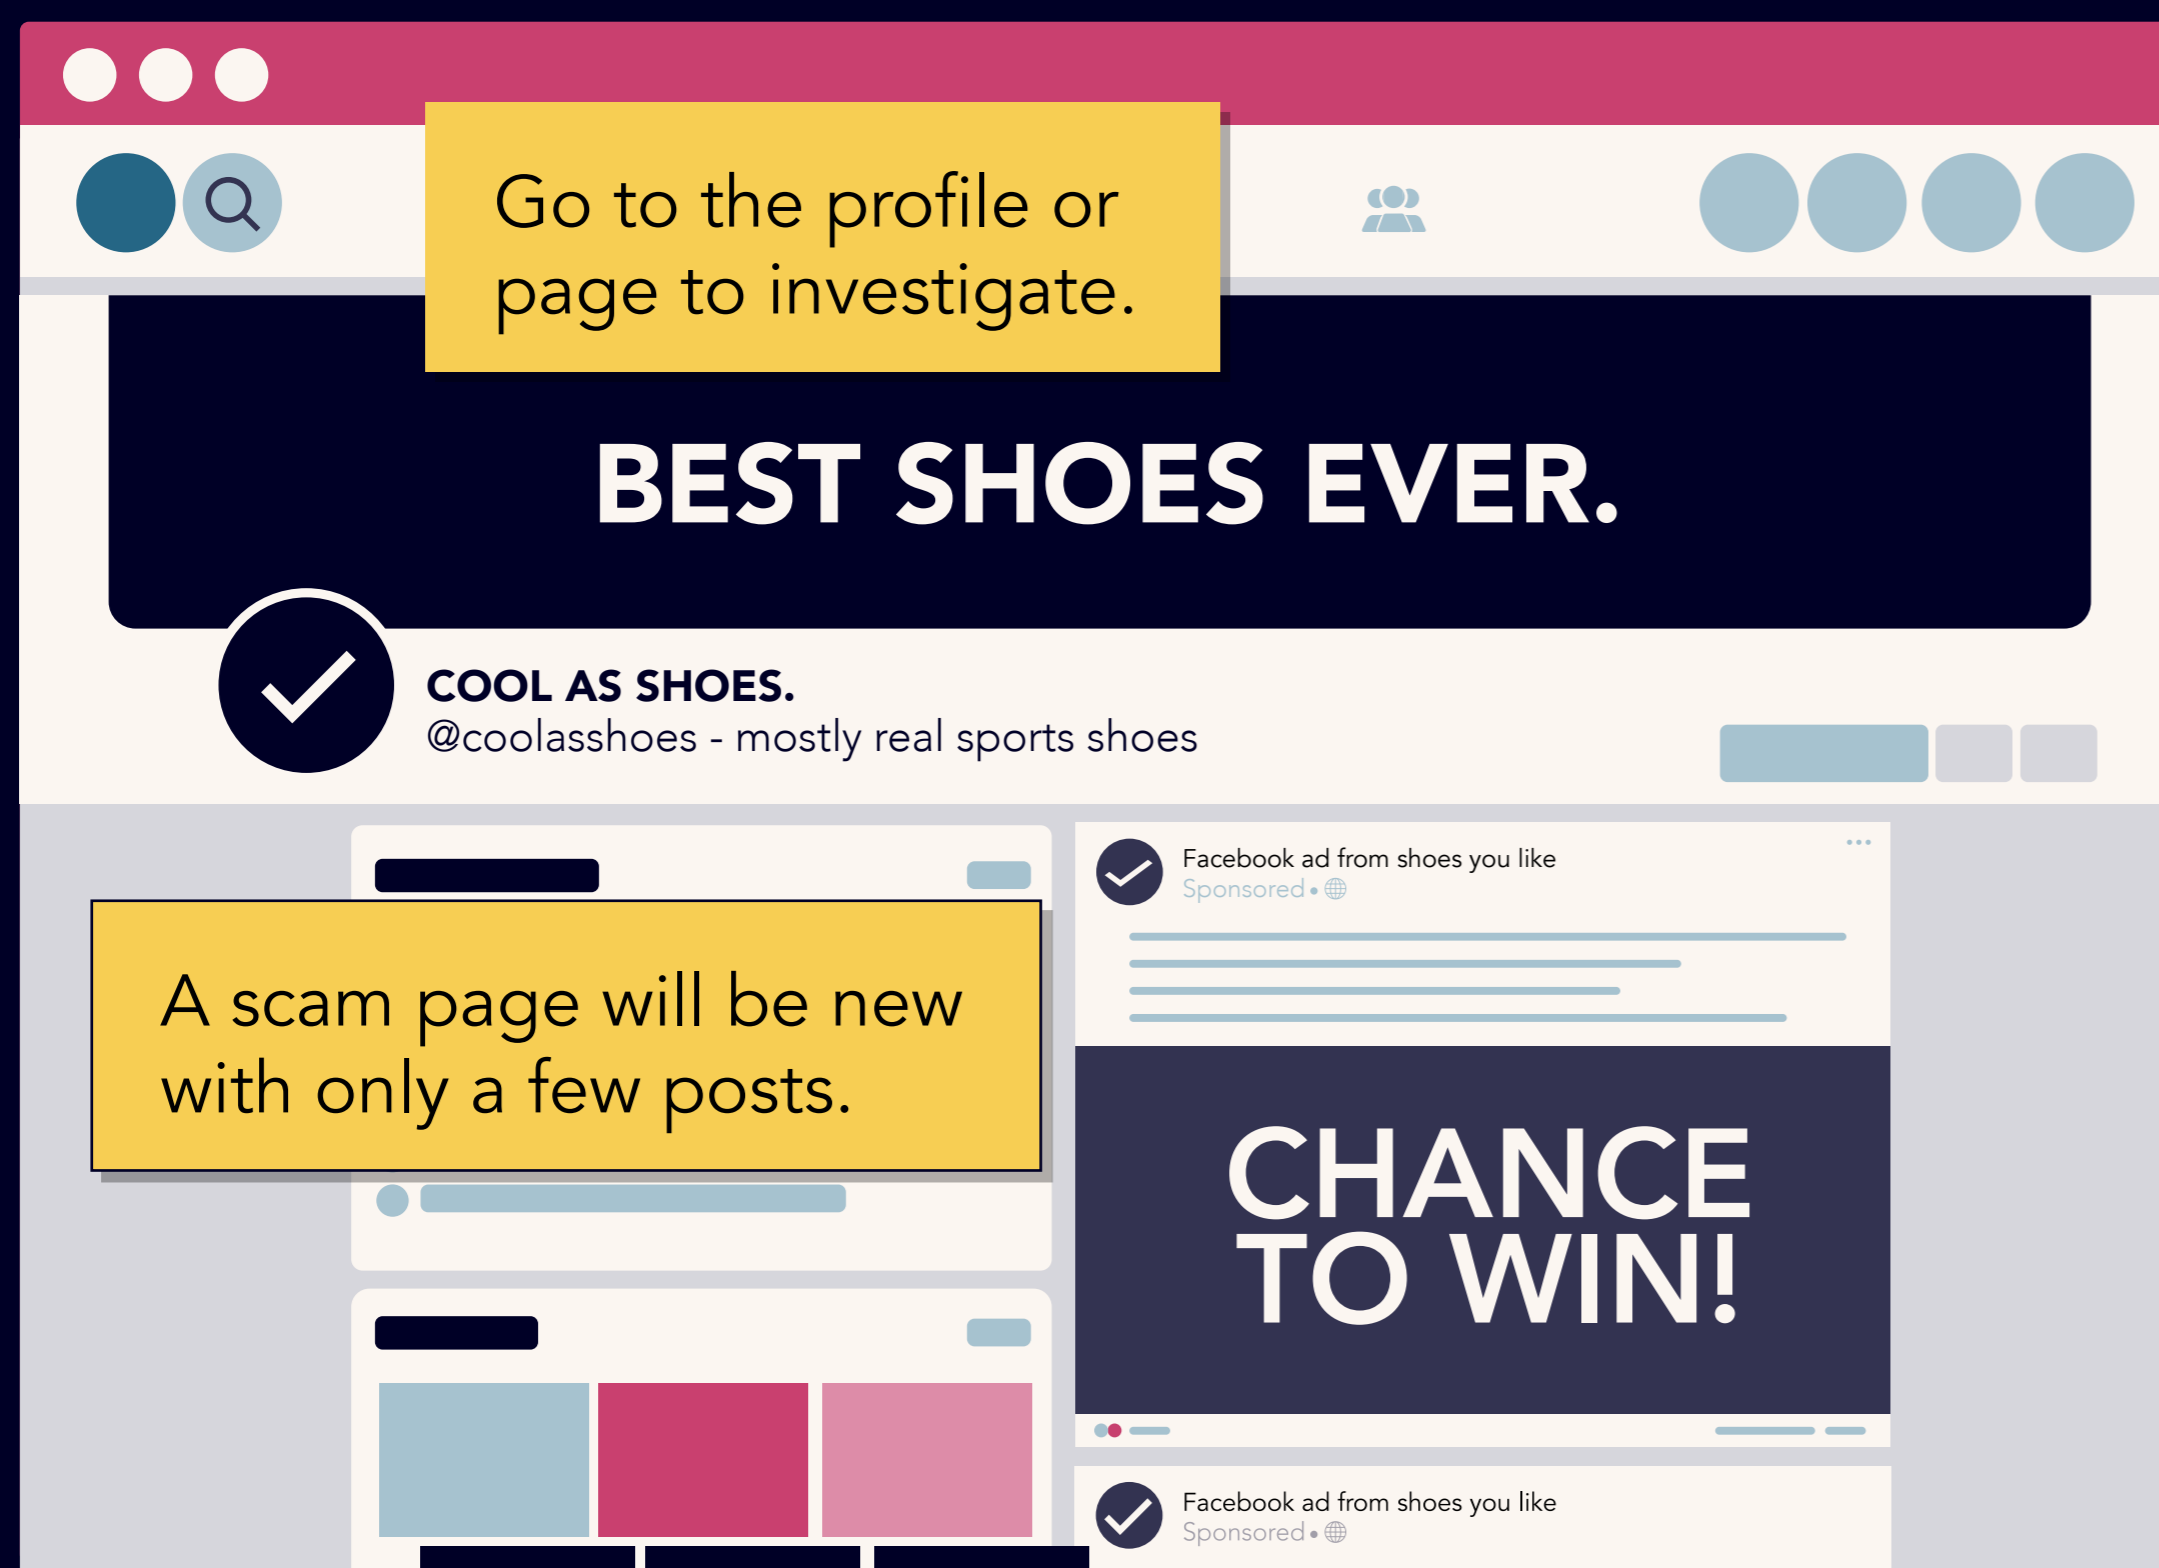

TIP 1

If it's a big name brand or public figure, look for the verified tick.
